

Bomber Command WWII – Open Day

This Sunday 20th May at Purfleet Heritage

Centre in Centurion Way,

Purfleet, RM19 1ZZ

Will be remembering the
Royal Air Force Bomber
Command 617 Squadron.

It is the 75th Anniversary of the Dams Raid.

In the Bomber Command 1943 display, you will see a full size replica Barns Wallace bouncing bomb, an airman's sheep skin flying suit together with equipment as used by the Command in WWII.

The shop will be open selling prints depicting Lancaster's over the dams. There you will also find various air craft and Air Man prints, which some of these are signed.

The Centre is open from 10am to 3.30pm.

Light refreshments are available at the Tea Bar.
